Hemingway, 61 Dies From a Shotgun Blast

KETCHUM, Idaho (AP) — Officials ruled today that 61-year-old famed author Ernest Hemingway died of a "self-inflicted gunshot wound in the head" and they said there will be no inquest.

A group of law officials went to the literary giant's country home today to talk with his wife Mary. They issued their statement a few minutes later.

Their ruling left officially open a determination of whether Hemingway's death was accidental, or otherwise.

The writer's wife, who heard a shot, found him dead about 7:30 a.m. Sunday. He was lying in his pajamas near the living room of the secluded home.

There was a double-barrel shotgun by his side.

She called a doctor although death apparently was instantaneous.

"Mr. Hemingway accidentally killed himself while cleaning a gun this morning at 7:30 a.m.," she said in a brief statement read to reporters by a family friend. She was taken to a hospital and given a sedative.

Coroner Ray McGoldrick said it was "a self-inflicted wound" that could have been accidental or otherwise. He said no inquest is planned unless something new develops.

Sheriff Frank Hewitt said authorities planned to talk with Mrs. Hemingway if a doctor permits.

Hemingway's violent death shocked the literary world. There were expressions of profound regret from President Kennedy to his obscure neighbors in Idaho.

To Hemingway, this was home — a quiet retreat far from the turbulent world of "Farewell to Arms," "Across the River and Into the Trees," "For Whom the Bell Tolls."

It was here that he came to his relax and work. To local citizens he was as well known as the Nobel and Pulitzer prize winner, the author of the brilliant "Old Man and the Sea."

It was here that he worked on a new major novel, and a book of reminiscences of his youth. A close friend said Hemingway was serious when he boasted he had "a big novel, all about the land, the sea and the air" slashed away in a Cuban bank as "insurance."

It will be here that they lay Ernest Hemingway to rest in private funeral services tentatively set for Friday.

But some of the people he knew around here thought "papa" — as friends called him — seemed a bit distressed and traced it to the recent cancer death of actor Gary Cooper, his close friend and local hunting companion.

"They're both in the barn now," Mrs. Cooper commented when she heard of the death. Hemingway had told Cooper he wasn't feeling well, and the late actor replied: "I bet I'll beat you to the barn." Cooper died in May.

Methodists Dedicate New Building

Yesterday, July 2, was a big day in the life of the First Methodist Church of Hope. Bishop W. Kenneth Pope II led his first anniversary in that office by bringing the message at the morning service followed with the dedication of the beautiful, new, debt-free educational building.

"What makes a Church Great?" was the subject of the sermon, and he answered the question in four parts, Youth, Manpower, Message and Spirit. Introduced by the Hope District Supt. Dr. R. B. Moore, the speaker brought an inspiring message to his listeners. Others taking part in the service were the Rev. Rufus Sorrells, pastor of the church, and his assistant, Gladwin Connell.

At the dedication service following the morning worship, the congregation assembled on the lawn of the new Sunday School building, recognized outstanding workers who have led in the completion of the building and heard a short address by Bishop Pope.

The Act of Presentation was made by James H. Jones, Chairman of the Commission on Education. Some 175 students will be trained in the new educational building which contains approximately 14,000 square feet of floor space. It was completed and occupied on Christmas Day, 1960. Over a period of three years the total cost of $154,000 has been paid.

Children who had attended Vacation Church School closed the day's activities with a special evening program under the direction of Miss Kathleen Broach, Supt. of the Children's Division. All in all, it was a significant and joyous day for the local church.

British Set to Protect Little Kuwait

By COLIN FROST
KUWAIT (AP) — More than 2,000 British troops stood guard in Kuwait today, ready to counter any move by Iraq against the little sheikdom.

The last of the commandos and paratroopers arrived Sunday night, completing a two-day landing operation that sparked cries of protest from the controlled press of the Soviet Union and the United Arab Republic.

A force of Saudi Arabian troops also arrived to bolster Kuwait's defense, local military sources said. Its size was not disclosed.

The government dispatched a three-man mission to the United Nations security council in New York to argue Sheikh Abdullah As-Salim As-Sabah's charge that Iraq's claim to Kuwait threatens the independence of the little territory, under which lies the world's largest proven oil reserve.

(Britain told the Security Council her forces would go into action if Iraqi troops crossed Kuwait's frontier. Iraq denied any intent to use force to back up her claim to the sheikdom and urged the council to demand "unconditional and immediate withdrawal" of the British forces.)

(Britain's Sir Patrick Dean told the council the British force, landed at the request of Sheikh Abdullah, would be pulled out as soon as the Kuwait ruler "considers the threat to the independence of his country is over.")

The British force, strengthened by tanks and artillery, dug into a defensive ring in the sun-parched desert north of Kuwait city.

Marine commandos pegged out nets to camouflage their trucks and give them some protection from the 115-degree heat and frequent sandstorms.

The Kuwait-Iraq border was reopened Sunday to road traffic from Iraq, but police were still stopping all border-bound traffic from the Kuwait side. The government imposed censorship on all international cables and phone calls including news dispatches.

With British forces to defend him, the ruling sheik stopped issuing guns to Bedouin volunteers who had been arming by the thousands since the crisis was touched off last week by Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassim's claim.

The sheik told newsmen the British "will remain in Kuwait as long as the crisis lasts. General Kassim will decide how long that will be."

Sheik Abdullah asked for Britain's help under terms of an agreement last month by which Kuwait assumed control of its own foreign affairs and ended its 62-year role as a British protectorate.

Odd Owl Poses for Pix

LARRY MOSES, SON OF MR. AND MRS. GUS MOSES, Hope Rf. J, caught this odd-looking owl in a neighbor's yard last Thursday and brought it alive in a cage to The Star office Saturday for a picture.

THEN THE HASSLE STARTED OVER WHAT VARIETY of owl it is. It answers none of the descriptions given for 12 varieties in "Complete Field Guide to American Wildlife." However, The Star's edition covers only the East, Central and North, notably omitting the Southwest.

THE MOSES FAMILY AND NEIGHBORS HAD AN IDEA it might be a cross between an owl and a hawk — but that was the most unlikely explanation the newspaper staff could think of, one being a night owl, the other a day hawk.

Texarkana Boy Jailed for Burglary

Three Texarkana boys were arrested Saturday by Hempstead officers in connection with the burglary of Logan's Station at Fulton early Saturday morning.

Prosecuting Attorney Royce Weisenberger filed burglary charges against Johnny Lee Killey Jr., Othel Phillips and William Briley, all 18, of Texarkana. They are accused of taking $20 in cash and various articles of merchandise from the Fulton station.

The burglary was reported to Sheriff Jimmy Griffin at 1:45 a. m. He immediately sent out an alert and the suspects were arrested at Mineral Springs within 35 minutes by Howard County Sheriff Jack Jennings and Arkansas State Police. Some of the loot had been thrown away and some was recovered.

Killey was paroled recently from the Arkansas Penitentiary after serving part of a one year sentence for burglary. The other years were suspended.

Local Man Killed in Auto Wreck

Billy Dale Mosier, 24, of Hope, was killed July 2 when the car in which he was riding crashed into a bridge on U.S. Highway 67, at Fulton.

The driver, Johnny Beard, 26, of Hope, was treated for head lacerations and released.

State Policemen said Beard apparently lost control of the car, which was traveling at a high rate of speed.

Mosier is survived by his wife, a son, Timothy Allen of Hope, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mosier of Hope; three sisters, Mrs. Joe Mealer of Los Angeles, Miss Mary Mosier and Mrs. Sue Neal both of Hope, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mosier of Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Rosenbaum, Fulton, Rf. 1.

Burial will be held at 2 p.m. today at Old Liberty Church with burial at Westmoreland Cemetery.

Demolition Squad Coming
A U. S. Army demolition squad will be here on Wednesday and Thursday and local persons knowing the location of shells are asked to notify the Sheriff's office.

Do not touch the shell, simply tell the sheriff's office the location and the team will dismantle the shell.

Command in Korea Has Changed

By ALAN CLINE

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Lt. Gen. Chang Do-yong resigned today as premier and head of the military junta, saying he was making way for stronger leadership in the drive for honest government and economic stability.

Maj. Gen. Pak Chung-chi, 44, prime organizer of the military coup that put Chang in office in May, became chairman of the junta—the Supreme Council for national reorganization and the real center of political power in South Korea. This makes him leader of the nation in name as well as in fact, since the council takes precedence over the Cabinet.

Named to replace Chang as premier is Defense Minister Song Yu-chang, army chief of staff under the Syngman Rhee dictatorship and a retired lieutenant general. The premier's job puts this tough, six-foot soldier in the position of seeing that the junta's policies are carried out.

Soon after the shakeup was announced, 40 general officers were put on the retirement list. Some were known to have disagreed with Song and been close to Chang. Most had at one time or another been accused of incompetence or corruption.

In a statement Pak said Chang resigned "for personal reasons." He said the ex premier "Greatly contributed to carrying out the revolutionary tasks."

As defense minister last week, Song had said he would resume an armed forces cleanup he claimed he was forced to halt last summer when he was retired as army chief of staff by the now defunct civilian government.

The move ended 44 days in office for Chang, 38.

Chang in a statement said he was resigning because South Korea needs "a leader who is more aggressive and who commands great respect and confidence at home and abroad."

It was generally assumed, however, that he had lost in a struggle for power within the top military leadership.

The resignation was announced after an emergency Cabinet session at which Chang arrived flanked by a heavy guard of 20 plainclothesmen. He left the Capitol building after the meeting under heavy guard, also, but a spokesman for the junta denied that he was under arrest.

Chang, 38, was the front man for the group of officers who on May 16 seized control of Seoul and overthrew the elected government of Premier John M. Chang.

Chang's statement was read to newsmen by the junta spokesman and later a recording of the general had made it was broadcast by Seoul radio.

Chang in his statement said the revolutionary government had completed the initial phase of its task and now needed strong implementations of its policies.

Chang held the premiership exactly 44 days. At first he had five jobs: premier; Supreme Council chairman; defense minister; army chief of staff; and martial law commander. He later relinquished the last three.

It had been expected for some time that Pak, architect of the May 16 coup, would replace Chang. The general insisted, however, that he was primarily a soldier and had no such aspirations.

Pak, now known as a staunch anti-Communist, was accused of pro-Communist activity before the Korean War.

Asks Court to Exhume Body

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Johnson Circuit Court has been asked to issue an order to exhume the body of a 29-year-old Clarksville woman and have an autopsy performed on it.

A coroner's jury ruled April 9 that Mrs. Dorothy Jean Vaughn, wife of G. W. Vaughn and mother of four young children, died of a self-inflicted gunshot wound.

A petition said she died a "sudden, violent and suspicious death" and that her body was buried without an autopsy. The petition said Hoyt Williams of Clarksville, her father, asked the autopsy.

Asks Kennedy to Invoke TH Law in Strike

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP)—The Cape Cod White House indicated today that Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg has recommended that President Kennedy invoke a Taft-Hartley Law injunction to halt the maritime strike.

Newsmen were told that Goldberg and Kennedy began conferring on the shipping strike at 9:50 a.m. on the radio of the President's summer home here.

A White House announcement added merely: "It appears that Secretary Goldberg would recommend the use of the Taft-Hartley Law."

Goldberg brought with him a report from the fact-finding board appointed by Kennedy to determine whether the strike, now in its 18th day, imperils the national health and safety.

Goldberg flew to the Cape Sunday night after a conference at Newark, N.J., with chairman David L. Cole and other members of the fact-finding board Kennedy appointed a week ago.

Kennedy set up the board as the first step in machinery provided by the Taft-Hartley Act to stop the strike for an 80 day cooling off period.

The next step would be to instruct his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, to seek a court injunction requiring the maritime workers to man the country's merchant fleet once again.

Asst. Atty. Gen. William Orrick Jr. was understood to be standing by in New York City to file the government's petition for an injunction, if need be.

Nearly half of the American merchant marine fleet of about 1,000 passenger ships, freighters and tankers are free to sail despite the continuing strike.

Agreements were signed Sunday with South Atlantic port and Gulf Coast companies with 250 ships. They completed signing with four of the five striking unions, and thus obtained all the types of officers and crewmen required to sail.

NEW YORK (AP)—The federal government today went into court seeking a Taft-Hartley law injunction to end the 18-day maritime strike.

President Kennedy, opposed in principle to use of the Taft-Hartley law, nevertheless called upon its provisions in the face of a split between seamen's union groups that has hopelessly snarled maritime negotiations.

On direct orders from Kennedy, who is vacationing at Hyannis Port, Mass., U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau filed a complaint under the Taft-Hartley law in federal district court.

If granted, the injunction would halt the strike of some 30,000 seamen for a period of 90 days.

A quick hearing in the complaint was scheduled.

Earlier, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg recommended to President Kennedy at Hyannis Port that the Taft-Hartley law injunction be sought. The two conferred during the morning at the President's summer home here.

Goldberg brought 5th grad 149

Hyannis.

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Domini-

The defense minister, Maj. Gen.

SUSPENSE

A Short Short Story

SECOND HONEYMOON

By RALPH DYLONG

Betty was attractive, pleasant and companionable. A personality.
 But, as her husband Ted soon discovered, she could not cook.
 More to the point, she didn't even try.

"Honey," she said, "it's ridiculous for me to spend my time over a stove, when things can be bought at the supermarket ready to pop in an oven and warm. I told you before you got the marriage license, that I couldn't burn toast."

"I thought maybe you'd learn," said Ted.

"I've read all the cookbooks
 you bought me, and I decided that the day is past when you value your mate on the basis of her apple dumpling, or even how clean she keeps the house. It's easier to warm things from the supermarket, or get stuff out of a can."

"But I'm tired of canned food,"
 said Ted.

"Learn to like it," said Betty.

Ted had been married long enough to realize that it's difficult to win an argument with a wife. He retreated in disorderly fashion. It had become a matter of personal pride to get a home cooked meal out of Betty
 — the kind that his Mother used to slave over.

He carried on guerrilla warfare, and while Betty carried her head high, he managed to weaken her defenses. She realized that small cracks in marital happiness sometimes turn into Grand Canyons. She decided to cook a meal for Ted, if she could do so without surrendering her principles.
 Well, not a whole meal, but just one thing. Maybe a special dish.
 Whenever Ted did something special, something commendable, or pleasing, she thanked him by preparing a dish with her own little hands. It was never a delicious dish, it was seldom food that a starving bushman would relish. Not even a goat would want a second helping, but Ted thought it was a step in the right direction and commended her for it.

These little home-cooked atrocities quickly convinced Ted that cooking was an art. Just as some men are not handy at fixing things, some women positively can't cook. But pride prevented Ted from surrendering. He was getting his way, but he didn't like it.

While she couldn't cook, Betty
 had a large number of good qualities and she perceived that

These little atrocities convinced Ted that cooking was an art.

things weren't going so well.

The little ravine was becoming a canyon. It was time to end the cold war in a way that Ted could surrender gracefully.

She cooked an entire meal. The soup was like dishwater. The tired old roast had been burned to death. The potatoes were soaked in grease, and the gravy was like crude petroleum. The salad would have nauseated a rabbit. The pie had a crust tougher than shoe leather. Even the nuts were rancid.

Ted choked it down, still fighting for principle. He praised the meal, although his stomach was howling for a bicarbonate. He pulled out his billfold, took two tens and a five and pressed them into her hands.

"After such a splendid repast, cooked by such a sweet little woman, a reward is demanded.
 Take this money and buy anything you want."

"Something extravagant?"

"It's yours to spend as you will," said Ted, with a colic smile. She'd buy expensive perfume, an outlandish hat, or silly costume jewelry, he thought. But maybe, someday, she'd learn to cook, if he didn't die of indigestion.

When Ted returned from the office, the following day, Betty gave him a big kiss. "Guess
 what I bought with the money,
 dear!"

He guessed, perfume, hat, silly
 jewelry and she shook her head.
 He gave up.

"An electric can opener," she said.

Ted looked at her with a faint
 gleam of anger, which vanished in a second. Then he took her in his arms again. "Thank heaven," he said. He had learned how to make an orderly retreat.

Permanent Construction
 Plan Asked

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Former
 Gov. Sid McMath has called for a permanent state construction fund,
 and Columbia Rep. Harry Colay has said he may introduce a plan for such a fund at an expected summary special legislative session.

But Colay's plan, which he says
 is under development, differs from McMath's in the way the fund would be financed.

McMath suggests that 3 per cent interest be charged on state money deposited in state banks and by eliminating waste in state government. He acknowledges that banking interests will fight
 the former suggestion.

Colay would finance the permanent construction fund with revenues from 12 additional days of horse racing at Hot Springs, revenues derived from tightening of use tax exemptions, and as yet undetermined percentage of increases in revenues allocated to the state's permanent reserve fund.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus is expected to call the legislature into special session in late July or early August to re-allocate funds from his unconstitutional omnibus expenditures act and to make a stab and financing state construction.

Faubus' $60 million state construction bond issue, which would have provided building funds for state colleges and institutions, was
 turned down by voters at last
 Tuesday's special election.

McMath, who campaigned against the bonds, Saturday introduced an emergency state construction plan which he said he felt he was obliged to offer as an alternative to the bonds.

It would utilize present surplus funds, estimated at between $10 and $20 million. The plan also would include repeal of a 1961 bill allocating $1.6 million for construction of a Revenue Department building and would divide that money between the State Hospital and Blind and Deaf schools.

Colay did not suggest an immediate large-scale building plan, but said his design would provide money for construction, repairs,
 state colleges and institutions, was
 turned down by voters at last
 Tuesday's special election.

He said a permanent construction fund and a coordinating board for institutions of higher learning would help solve recurrent construction problems. He said such a board could keep the Legislative Council acquainted with construction needs at each institution.

State Rep. Virgil T. Fletcher of Saline County last week proposed a building plan based on cutting state budgets back to last year's level, saving $13.5 million. Saturday, Fletcher asked that the people be allowed to vote on his plan, but he conceded that chances of such a proposal coming to a vote

 are unlikely.

Victim's Will

MEANA, Ark. (AP) —Probate Judge Ben Shaver of Texarkana will hold a hearing here July 13 on the will of E. B. MacDonald, 75, victim of a sensational torso slaying last December. The will was filed for probate by Mrs. Barbara MacDonald Neyrey of New Orleans, MacDonald's daughter. She will get about $21,000 of the $23,000 estate. MacDonald's former wife, Mrs. Norma MacDonald Young, pleaded guilty to the slaying and now is serving a life sentence.

No New Plans to Redistrict

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP) — The expected summer special session of the Arkansas Legislature probably won't be offered further congressional redistricting plans, says Lincoln Rep. G. D. Smith.

Smith said lawyers advised him that anything the Legislature might do now to alter a redistricting act passed in the winter regular session would be subject to court challenge.

The act will be referred to a popular vote at the 1962 general election, and all candidates for representative apparently will have to run at large in that election.

Smith was the leader of the drive to get the act on the ballot. He said attorneys now say the act already is in the hands of the voters and there is no way the Legislature can take it back.

The Legislature's plan would eliminate two of the state's six congressional districts. Smith and other opponents said the plan was unfair because it placed three southern counties—Jefferson, Arkansas and Lincoln—in a district composed mainly of northeast Arkansas counties.

Wimbledon Play Goes to Final Rounds

By ROBERT JONES

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—With defending champion Neale Fraser sidelined, eight tennis boys from six countries step on Wimbledon's famed courts today with the game's most glittering prize only three matches away.

It's a mixed bag for the quarter-finals this year—two Australians, to Britons, and one man each from the United States, Chile, Venezuela and India. To make the mixture more appealing for tennis-hungry British crowds, it's the first time in 23 years two Britons have reached the last eight, and the first time ever anyone from Venezuela has lit this far.

Since Britain's Bobby Wilson spilled Fraser so unceremoniously Saturday, the way is wide open for all of them.

The lone American is Chuck McKinley, 20-year-old crew-cut from St. Louis, who beat Warren Jacques of Australia on Saturday and now meets Wilson. Chuck was hoping Californian Chris Crawford would be joining him, but Crawford after a brief moment of glory in defeating Italy's Nicola Pietrangeli, bowed out to Ivo Pimen-tal of Venezuela.

Pimentel, who meets Mike Sangster, the Briton with the slambang game, commented philosophically about the draw, "If I win, I win."

Luis Ayala, the stocky Chilean who plays Rod Laver, is the only quarter-finalist to make any predictions. "This may be my year," he said just after the tournament started.

Laver, the red-haired Australian left-hander beaten by Fraser in the finals the last two years, could take it all this time. Laver has been suffering from influenza, but looked recovered by beating fellow countryman Bob Heit in straight sets Saturday.

The only other Australian left is Ilay Emerson. He meets Ramanathan Krishnan, the stylish Indian who as a semifinalist last year.

Herman and Edstrom Take Olympic Spots

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) —Decathlon stars Paul Herman and Dave Edstrom captured the AAU National Decathlon Championships top spots over the weekend to win posts on the U.S. AAU track and field team touring Europe, but Edstrom has indicated he may not join the team.

Edstrom, who finished second to Herman, indicated to the Albuquerque Journal he may not make the trip because of an obligation with the Air National Guard.

Both Herman and Edstrom finished strong in the final event of the decathlon, the 1,500-meter run, to come from behind in the point standings and take the top two places in the two-day meet.

Herman, Westmont (Calif.) College, ran the 1,500 meters in 4:30.3. The 410 points he picked up boosted his total to 7,142 and moved him from a third place position to the winner's stand.

Edstrom, Emerald Empire Athletic Association of Oregon, led the field in early events, but fell behind Saturday. His 4:53.2 clocking in the 1,500-meter gave him 370 points which lifted his total to 7,048.

Herman has said he will join the AAU team.

One More Chance?

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen: Our Dad's getting crabby, lazier and more selfish every day. Our home used to be nice and our lawn like green velvet. Now the house is little more than a shack and the yard a jungle of weeds because Dad won't care for them. If it weren't for Mom, I'd never go anywhere.

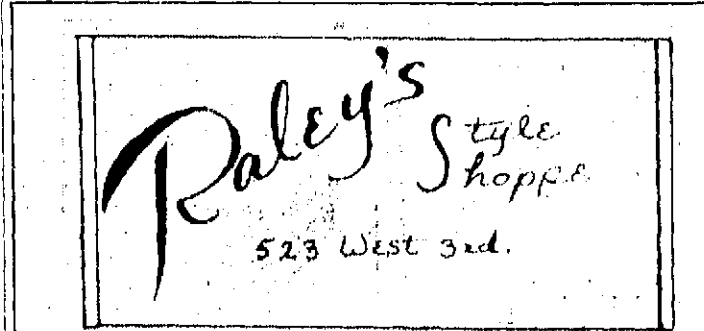

All Dad says is "No." I am 14, my two brothers 12 and four, and my sister nine. We love our parents but feel closer to Mom. A couple of weeks ago she told me she was taking us kids and moving out. She and Dad were married 16 years yesterday. Of course I didn't believe her but last night she told Dad. He was almost crying. I felt sorry for him but everything Mom said was true.

Should we beg them to make up or tell Mom we'll go when she goes? —Four Confused Kids

Dear Kids: This is a tough one. Since you love both parents—even crabby, lazy Dad, why don't you tell him so and ask for the sake of his wife and children that he do more working and less crabbing. Make it plain that you'll walk out with Mother if he doesn't. Should he see the light—and I think he might, then ask her to give him one more chance.

Dear Helen: It all started when my sister who is going on 19, got in trouble. She was a smart girl with a solid future now gone to smash. My parents never go out any more. I'm 16. Every time I phone someone or they me, my parents ask, "Who's that? What did they want?" When I say, "Nothing," they think I'm keeping secrets. When I want to go out with a boy my mother hesitates because she doesn't want me to go steady like my sister did. I'd appreciate being a little independent so I can find out things for myself. Am I wrong? I'm a Buddhist. We believe in cause and effect. Every day I try to be good so everything will turn out right but I must be doing something wrong because nothing turns out right. I can't go to my parents. They wouldn't understand. Please help me. —Worried and

Mixed-up

Dear Mixed-up: It seems unfair that you should be penalized for your sister's transgressions. Look upon the parental restrictions as a fierce desire to protect, rather than curb you. As you know, the Buddhist philosophy is that you are paying for sins committed in previous incarnations. My philosophy is: "No cross, no crown." Look upon this trouble as a challenge. If met in the right spirit, it will develop your character. Your parents should face it by going courageously fourth to meet life. Drawn blinds aren't the answer. If only for your sake they should "Remember to Live." Sixteen is still a bit too young to try your wings alone. Follow the Buddhist rules for attaining Nirvana and you will be well equipped for life and liberty when you come of age two short years hence.

Dear Helen: Talk about mothers-in-law! How about ill-tempered mothers and long-suffering daughters? My husband and son and I live on the lower floor of my mother's home. A week ago she told me to get out of her house, being mad at me for a fancied slight. I sent her a Mother's Day card. No reply. She hasn't seen my brother in two years because she nagged his wife and then turned my father against him. Now she's turning father against me. I've done more for her than anybody. She never gets along with anyone but just because she's a mother you'd think she rated a halo. My sister and I own half this house so mother has no right to put me out. I'm so miserable for I love her. That's why it hurts. —M. E.

Dear M. E.: Bearing children doesn't necessarily qualify a woman as a mother. We are prone to be over-sentimental about motherhood. I've known some mothers who were possessed of the devil and others who were saints on earth. We've got to make the best of things as they are in this world. Of course you love your mother. It would be unnatural if you didn't and in her own perverse way she probably loves you. But that is no reason why you should be treated like a recalcitrant child. As a wife and mother you are on equal footing with her. Gently, but firmly, re-

Hoffa Union Ready to Re-elect Him

By NORMAN WALKER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) —Swinging jazz bands and hinkies set the stage today for a special union convention to re-elect James R. Hoffa, 38, to a new five-year term as Teamsters president.

Hoffa, conducting a flamboyant campaign against phantom opposition, fired off verbal broadsides against the Kennedy administration and the AFL-CIO while gearing up the 1.7 million-member Teamsters for an even bigger role in American labor.

The 2,000 convention delegates were due to hoist Hoffa's salary from $50,000 to $75,000 and rubber stamp his bid for a more than $10-million hike in annual dues funds allotted to run Hoffa's Washington headquarters.

In what sounded like a call to was against other labor unions, Hoffa said he'd use part of the money to organize new members in jurisdictional fields that AFL-CIO unions are letting lie dormant.

"If the Teamsters don't organize, we're dead," Hoffa said. The former grocery warehouse man said he and the Teamsters have emerged from a barrage of court charges and crime investigations stronger and more militant than ever.

Hoffa assailed the Kennedy administration which he said is convinced her of this. Ill-temper in anyone, no matter whether it be your mother or aunt, uncle or cousin, should never be tolerated. If her family had been firmer with your mother in the past, she wouldn't be so difficult now.

Man Charged in Murder Attempt

SHERIDAN, Ark. (AP) — A Grant County man has been charged with attempted murder and attempted suicide in connection with the stabbing of his wife and himself.

The charges against Virgil Loran Kinder, 36, of near Sheridan were filed Saturday by Pros. Atty. Lawson Glover.

Grant County Sheriff Vernon Hope said Kinder attacked his wife with a knife following an argument Thursday night. Kinder later stabbed himself, Hope said.

Mrs. Kinder suffered cuts on the throat and was released from a clinic here after treatment. Kinder was taken to a Little Rock hospital with a stab wound in the stomach.

ducting a vendetta against the Teamsters and unions generally. He singled out Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg for special criticism. Hoffa said they have a swarm of agents here surveying the convention proceedings and even buttonholing delegates to try to interfere with Hoffa's reelection.

The special election is required as a final step to let Hoffa get out from the unusual mentorship arrangement that grew out of a court challenge of his initial 1957 election as Teamsters president. That election was challenged as rigged.

Shreveport Really Licks the Travelers

By VERNON BUTLER

Shreveport's Gordon MacKenzie,

a very unfriendly fellow with a bat in his hands, poled a two-run triple while he was supposed to be getting an intentional base on balls, and that incident triggered

a most unhappy hour for about half of the Little Rock pitching

staff.

Starting with a nine-run sixth inning, the Sports scored 18 runs in their last three cracks at the Traveler pitchers and overwhelmed Little Rock 19-4 Sunday. The onesided victory enabled Shreveport to leap from seventh place

in the Southern Association standings to fifth.

Chattanooga regained the league

lead from Birmingham by sweeping Nashville 4-3 and 6-5 while the aroused Mobile Bears were outlasting Birmingham 6-5 in 13

innings. Atlanta slugged the Macon Peaches 12-3 for a split of their double header after the Peaches had won the free-swinging opener 10-7.

Lefty Pat Gillick of Little Rock

and Paul Seitz, Shreveport's

rookie right hander, were locked in a tight pitcher's battle when

MacKenzie confronted Rookie Gil-lick with runners on second and third in the bottom of the sixth inning.

Manager Fred Hatfield ordered

Gillick to walk MacKenzie, but the fourth pitch wasn't wide enough

and the Shreveport catcher started the scoring parade with his two-run triple to right-center. The shaked Gillick and relievers Jim
